The TICA Group is a group of privately owned companies that operate throughout Australia and New Zealand. TICA Insurances offer a landlord insurance policy that covers landlords if a tenancy turns sour. TICA Default Tenancy Control is a national default tenancy control system that allows its members to list tenants onto its databases subject to any state legislation that may be applicable. It also allows its members to inquire if a tenant is listed.

It is important to remember that membership to TICA is not compulsory and that the above named member has taken the step to use the TICA systems in order to reduce the chances of placing a problem tenant into their client's property.

The validity of this certificate of membership can be verified by any member of the public by contacting the TICA Group.
